JOIN Jeda and Judy for this three-part, hands-on, transformative workshop series designed for women like you seeking balance and wellbeing. As a woman, your issues are more complex and interrelated than men's. Your hormones have played a role in your health and well-being since puberty, and chances are you are juggling more than one role – employee, parent, caregiver, concerned consumer, supportive partner. Chances are too that you struggle with maintaining a healthy weight, managing stress, sleeping well or being fatigued much of the time. The workshop will cover the role of digestion, toxins and stress in disrupting hormone balance and contributing to insomnia, impaired thyroid function, pain, hypertension, fatigue, weight gain and much more. Using the principles of holistic nutrition and traditional Chinese medicine, you will learn how to make important, practical changes that will bring your whole system – and life – into balance.

Cost: $45 + HST per workshop or $120 + HST for 3 part series
